

Website Disclaimer

Andrea Dedik Photography | Effective 30 October 2026

I am Andrea Plic Dedikova, trading as Andrea Dedik Photography (ABN 13 371 592 616), on the Gold Coast, Queensland. In this disclaimer, “I”, “me” and “my” refer to me as the sole trader. This website provides information about Andrea Dedik Photography, my photographic style and the services I offer. I take reasonable care to keep information accurate and current, but availability, packages and other details may change. Please contact info@andreadedikphotography.com or 0401 302 081 if you need to confirm a detail before booking.

Photography examples and session information

Portfolio images show examples of my work. Each session depends on the people involved, their comfort and safety, the location and conditions. Examples do not mean that every session will produce identical poses, lighting or images. Your agreed package and deliverables are set out in the booking agreement.

General information about preparing for maternity, newborn or family photography is not medical advice. For health concerns affecting you or your child, seek advice from an appropriately qualified health professional. Tell me about practical adjustments needed for your session without sharing unnecessary sensitive information.

External links

Links to other websites are provided for convenience. Those sites are controlled by their operators and may change. Review their terms and privacy policies before using them. A link does not by itself amount to a recommendation or endorsement.

Your legal rights

This disclaimer is limited to explaining the nature of website information and links. It does not exclude or restrict any consumer guarantee, right or remedy under the Australian Consumer Law or other law that cannot lawfully be excluded or restricted. It does not override an agreed booking or excuse misleading representations.